FROM THE PRESIDENT - Lee Bradford

Recently I was invited to a meeting where I knew absolutely no one except the friends with whom I went. It was to hear a speaker they thought I might enjoy. Waiting for the speech to begin, however, was very difficult. My friends were busy greeting people they knew while I tagged along smiling graciously. But underneath that smile I was feeling very shy and awkward. It seemed almost impossible to find a starting point for conversation with these strangers. I was searching for something to grasp on to -- a common bond. There was none evident.

The next day I received a letter that Helen Kelley has passed along to me from a quilter in New Zealand who was interested in finding a sister club for her quilt group in Auckland, New Zealand. The idea was very appealing. What fun it would be to exchange patterns and information and ideas. If some of the club members were able to come to the USA like they hoped, we could share so much more.

There I was, confronting two sets of strangers in two very different ways. The common bond -- a place to begin. It made all the difference. It is that way with any group I am sure. So next time you are with a group of quilters -- especially if you don't know many of them, remember how lucky you are. You share a common interest. You may still feel shy and awkward but take a few deep breaths and ask your neighbor how long they have been quilting, what they are working on now, or next. The more you practice the better you will be, and besides, you gain so much. And quilters do love to share.

Fondly,
Lee

Effective June 1, 1982, the new M.Q. Librarian is Maureen Heaney. Establishing the Library and being involved with it's growth the past 1½ years has been a great experience. Maureen will continue with it and I hope she enjoys the job as much as I did. Good luck, Maureen, and have fun with the Library.

Margaret Maki - Retired Librarian

There is no book review this month.
Empty those crumbs from your 1 lb. bread bags and fill them with fabric! Our June daytime meeting will feature a scrap bag exchange. All plastic bags should be solidly filled with fabric (no knits please) and secured with a twister, string etc. and marked with your name on the outside. You may bring as many bags as you wish for exchange. If you include remnant cuts, use no pieces larger than 3/4 yard. Special fabrics like satin or velvet (for crazy quilting) could be included if you mark your bag accordingly. Join the fun ... it is a great chance to acquire new and interesting fabrics for your latest quilting projects!

A Mennonite Quilt Sale by Joan Mauer

The Mennonite churches of northern Michigan combine efforts with a Relief Sale the first Saturday of every August. All proceeds go to the Mennonite Central Committee for Missionary efforts and work in disaster areas.

Among the things for sale are approximately 30 - 40 quilts ranging in price from $100 to $1,500 (Mennonite women are very good quilters). It becomes somewhat of a contest to see whose quilt will bring the most money.

Other things of interest are a pancake breakfast, Bar-B-Que chicken dinner and home-made pies and many more donated items.

The sale is located on M33 at the County Fairgrounds on Smith Lake Road. It takes place on August 7th, 1982. Call Joan if you would like more information - her number is 483-1824.

FROM THE EDITOR

I thoroughly enjoy the Quilter's Newsletter magazine, but sometimes I wonder about Jeffrey Gutcheon. In the April issue which we have just received I wondered about Jeffrey more than ever. To quote him "I was shocked to learn that nowadays to actually make a quilt is considered an "advanced project". Why is he shocked? Is it so surprising that many women today do not have time to make a quilt? Is it a disaster if they content themselves with colorful, well executed pillows? Does it show a lack of skill because they only make a beautiful wall-hanging for their home or their office or for a close relative? Maybe I am wrong, but I thought we could just enjoy quilting and quilters, I didn't know that we all had to make a quilt to show our capabilities! To quote Jeffrey again "I discovered that the secretary of the local guild had never completed a patchwork piece of any kind".

So, what? The secretary is expected to take minutes of meetings and distribute them to others. It helps if she/he enjoys the art of quilting, but if one does not play a musical instrument it does not mean that one cannot understand music history or enjoy Beethoven's music. I daresay that particular secretary thoroughly enjoys the company of quilters, enjoys the art which she witnesses, and someday, when she is ready, will probably finish that essential piece which Jeffrey seems to think that any self-respecting secretary should be able to accomplish.

Thank goodness Maria McCormick Snyder does not think along the same lines as Jeffrey Gutcheon to quote from her talk to us at the M.Q. show in April "... more stimulating for the new quilter to do 4 pillows rather than tackle one quilt". She also mentioned that small goals were very important to quilters. I know many people who thoroughly enjoy our meetings and enjoy small projects very much, but their lives are busy and they just cannot find time to commit themselves to a large quilt.

It seems that we should be free to enjoy, and not always be performing some competitive task to be a quilter. One of the applicants for the M.Q. board mentioned to me that she would like to see us become less competitive than we are now. I doubt very much if M.Q. would have grown so fast if every member felt they had to make a quilt in order to be accepted.
Hanging Your Quilt

I received permission to print the following article from Horty Doren, Editor of the Colorado Quilting Council Newsletter. She asked me to be sure to tell you that Francine Nixon of Evergreen, Colorado wrote about hanging the quilts. Francine wrote these good instructions for the purposes of quilters sending their art to the "Quilt Colorado Show" in July this year. Ed.

Please print your name, mailing address and phone number on the upper right hand corner of the tube or tab.

five 9" muslin tabs, folded in half by 2" wide. Display rod will be inserted through loops of tabs. Use for crib quilts and wall hangings of similar size or smaller. (tabs should have a finished appearance no ragged edges)

6" wide folded in half by width of top of quilt - display rod will be inserted between muslin layers, not between muslin and quilt back. Use for single size quilts on up and large wall hangings.

Jean wrote from Cloquet Minn. to let readers know that they no longer have a catalog business and have moved their shop out of their home to it's own building. It represents their hopes of many years. They now have machine quilting and hand quilting services to offer and quilt making too. They also have classes 3 nights a week. Their shop - Calico Patch - has informal social gatherings on Thursday evenings from 6:30 - 9:00 gives quilters a chance to visit. Jean said that she does not get to the cities very often but the newsletter is like a letter from home to them. Ed.
IN THE MAILBOX by JEAN BAY WILEY

Helen Kelley has shared with us a wonderful letter that she received from a quilter in Auckland, New Zealand. Miss Pamela Fitz-Gerald is the convenor or head of a quilt club called Nga Hii o Akarana (translation from the Maori language, The Auckland Stitchbirds). They began in the spring of 1977 with about a dozen members and number about 26.

Pamela writes, in part, to offer a unique and fun opportunity to us. I quote: "The idea of a sister club I felt might appeal to some of your ladies as yet another way of bonding the sisterhood of quilters throughout the world. We felt that an exchange of ideas could be of interest, but I guess it could be pretty well a one way traffic when considering our relative inexperience and lack of patchwork and quilting tradition, compared with all the wonderful things the ladies of your area accomplish. We also felt that it might give the opportunity for reciprocal visits. We had a lot of pleasure from helping hostess a group of travelling American quilters who were down here a couple of years ago from Iowa City, Denver and California."

We are making the assumption that they are seeking regular penpals/quilting friends from among our group to form a sister club relationship that could grow as much as individual circumstances would allow. Kathy Morton has volunteered to act as a coordinator to gather a group of MQ members who would like to participate in this kind of quilters' adventure, and will write a first contact letter to Pamela FitzGerald. We do know that some of the New Zealand quilters are planning to visit the U.S.A. in the summer of 1983 and might very well visit Minnesota then, so we may have a chance to actually meet. So if any of our members are interested in being a part of this "sister club" effort and writing to a quilter in New Zealand, please contact Kathy Morton 9860 Crestwood Terrace, Eden Prairie, Mn. 55344. Her phone no. is (612) 934-0966.

By the way, Barb Hjort shared a short letter that she recently received from quilter Aye Reuss in Alice Springs, Australia, who some months ago asked to hear from any Minnesota Quilters who were interested in writing. More than a few of us have written to her since then, and she mentioned to Barb how very much she has enjoyed all of our letters. And I am sure the enjoyment has been mutual!

Keep the world in stitches!

THE MEDALLION MAGIC QUILT SHOW P.S. Ed.
Little pieces tickle in about the quilt show from Dolly Reynolds, Cathie La Rosa, Maria McCormick Snyder, Donna Hiar and Jean Jack.

DOLLY REYNOLDS WRITES

I want to thank each and every one of the people who helped in the hospitality, Border Patrol and Ticket Sales areas of the Quilt Show. You all did a marvelous job, and some of your jobs were difficult. Thanks from both Audrey Wyatt and myself.

CATHIE LA ROSA WRITES

The contributors of the doll quilts are listed alphabetically with the same numbers that were used during the auction. Each name is followed by a brief description of the doll quilt, the amount it sold for and the buyer. An MQ following the name of the buyer denotes membership in Minnesota Quilters. Fifty-three of the quilts were purchased by members. It is nice that so many of them "stayed in the family". We raised a total of $1,628 with the auction. We would like to thank everyone who made this venture such a smashing success.

FROM WENDY RICHARDSON

Comes the news that the July 9th. meeting of the Minnesota Quilters will be in Princeton, Minnesota. The program will be demonstrations of totes, purses and wallets.
Good things are starting to happen at the Historic Courthouse, like the return of the quilting club, formerly the Courthouse Quilters now the Friday Morning Quilters (they changed their name when the building was red-tagged and closed). And this group is returning with a gift in hand. Tuesday they presented the County Board with a hefty check, the proceeds of several quilting fundraisers.

I believe I am correct in saying that most of the members of this group are M.Q. members too. Space prevents me from giving you all more details, but Nell Bredeson is the prime mover behind all these exciting "goings-on" and she would be delighted to give you the details about this group.

WORKSHOPS

The following is a list of workshops scheduled for the Fall Weekend Getaway. Time (morning or afternoon) for each workshop will be determined after registrations are received. Some workshops may be held both in the morning and afternoon sessions if there is a large demand for them.

1. The Amish Art - Sandy Stokes
Learn about the Amish people, their use of only solid colors and some of the Amish quilting designs such as Pumpkin Seed and Feathered Star while you create an Amish-style wall hanging. Three patterns will be available for the beginner to more advanced quilter. Sewing machine optional.

2. Basic Pattern Drafting - Carolyn Sidebottom.
We will learn basic grid categories, to draft any size square pattern and to use this knowledge with non-square 4-sided designs. The class project will be a collection of finished patterns - traditional and/or original - in usable sizes. No special mathematical background is needed for this class except the ability to multiply and divide.

3. Celtic Quilt Design - Margaret Maki
Learn the technique of Celtic quilting by appliqueing bias strips over and under, creating an interlaced design. Margaret will supply various patterns from which to choose.

4. Hawaiian Applique - Kathy Morton
Learn the applique method that is unique to the Hawaiian Islands. Fold and cut your fabric to create beautiful shapes of flowers, fruits or your own design. Kathy will supply patterns to be used for a 30" square which work well as the center of a wall hanging, medallion quilt, tablecloth or floor pillow.

5. Introduction to Doll Making - Joanne Holzknecht
You will learn to make a lovely 20" fabric doll from the hair on her head to the shoes on her feet. During class time you will get a good start. Demonstration and samples will show you clothing construction and finishing techniques. Sewing machine and iron (can be shared by 2-3 people).

6. Miniatures - Carolyn Sidebottom
Ideas and construction tips for fully proportioned quilts or blocks in miniature which offer numerous possibilities for decorating. The workshop project will be the construction of a miniature block to use as you wish.

7. Reverse Applique: Snowflake for All Seasons - Carol Wagner
Learn the technique for reverse applique while you create your own personal pattern for a lacy snowflake design usable for a 12" or 14" pillow top, wall hanging or central motif for a larger project.

8. Seminole T-Shirts - Lee Bradford
Make an ordinary T-shirt or sweatshirt into something extraordinary by adding an original strip of patchwork. Sewing machine and iron required.

9. Stained Glass Applique - Agnes Leer
This class will offer a choice of designs in floral, woodland, animal and religious motifs. We will learn the basics of design and construction for this popular needlework.

10. Trapunto: Fun Stuff - Lynn Fredsall
